Real estate, $11,030,070.
Improvements, $5,080,870.
Personal property, $979,965.
Cash, $13,000.

Some idea of the rapid growth of the city may be obtained from the figures of 1915 which are:

Real estate, $9,991,545.
Improvements, $4,656,695.
Personal property, $1,620,840.
Cash, $4,305.

In the year 1900 the first tract was laid out in Richmond and the first house built. In 1910 or one decade later the assessed value of all property was $7,888,147. At the end of the next five years the assessed valuation of property was $16,273,385 or an increase of $8,385,138 over that of 1910.

J. M'CULLOUGH IS WINNER OF AUTO CLASSIC

Making better than 50 miles an hour, James McCullough, former student at the Richmond high school, won first place in the Fourth of July sweepstakes auto race yesterday. McCullough drove a rebuilt Ford.

Harvey Sellers, local auto agent, finished second in a Dodge car.

The race was over a course of 30 miles. Both drivers had narrow escapes during the race, McCullough striking a curb near the starting point on the first lap and Sellers skidding on several occasions.

COUNCIL MEETING IN EQULIZATION SESSION

Commencing today the city council will sit as a board of equalization until such time as the budget for 1916-17 is completed.

The board met on Monday evening but adjourned immediately to meet this evening.

FOURTH IS RESTFUL FOR CITY FIREMEN

The Fourth of July was almost a day of rest for the city firemen. But three alarms were turned in, they being grass fires with no loss. Fire Chief Roy Lemoine is jubilant over the results considering the reckless manner in which some persons handled fireworks.

The grass fires were at Sixth street and Chanslor avenue; Fifteenth street and Potrero avenue, and Seventh street and Bissel avenue.

Strike Riot At Crockett

NON-UNION MAN BEATEN AND SHOT

(Special to Record-Herald)

CROCKETT, July 5.—G. Y. Guilloit, known as "Frenchy," a non-union workman employed by the American-Hawaiian Sugar company was shot at and slugged by strikers Monday night after having sworn out a warrant for the arrest of certain union sympathizers. A reward of $500 was offered by the sheriff's office today for information which will lead to the arrest of Guilloit assaulters.

William Benson and Albert Phol whom Guilloit charged with having threatened his life pled ignorance to having attempted the assault. Six shots were fired at Guilloit as he left the refinery. None took effect. As he started to run several men overpowered him and beat him into unconsciousness with a blackjack.

(Special to Record-Herald)

MARTINEZ, July 5.—Claiming that S. V. Sharp of Richmond was driving his automobile along the state highway near Pinole in a reckless manner when he collided with J. H. Martin's car, the Crockett merchant has brought suit in the superior court to collect $1750 from Sharp. Martin contends that his car was damaged to the extent of $750 and that the merchant himself suffered damages to the amount of $1000.

Owing to the prominence of the two men the action is attracting much attention in automobile owner circles.

BOY PART OF DAD? COURT WILL DECIDE

(Special to Record-Herald)

MARTINEZ, July 5.—HOW much a part of his father is a son? That's the question that is chasing the grins over the faces of Martinez lawyers.

A suit has been filed there by the Shell Oil company against Andrew Allen and nine other defendants, heirs of William Welch, in the course of which the oil company has filed answer to the defendants' cross complaint. Francis Mannix appears for the defendants.

But somebody of the plaintiff's counsel evidently got his real estate law phraseology tangled up with the law of persons, inasmuch as the answer solemnly alleges that the plaintiff has "no information or belief that said Guadaloupe Welch was the son and lawful heir of one William Welch, or any part thereof."

So just "what part thereof" a son is of his own dad will shortly have to be passed on by the Martinez tribunal.

COW DRAGS MAN; OWNER SUED FOR $6250 IN COURT

MARTINEZ, July 5.—Joseph Kobi wants 6,250 from Antone Boznak, prominent Richmond man, for injuries alleged to have been suffered when Kobi fell and was dragged by a cow owned by the defendant. The action filed in the superior court claims that Boznak staked out a cow on a vacant lot in Ventura stree on April 24th last and that the plaintiff caught his foot in the rope and fell. That the cow became excited and ran, dragging Kobi about the lot and causing him great pain and injured him so that he was confined to his bed for several weeks.

There has been some bitter contentions before as to the rights of parties to stake out cattle on vacant land in the outlying district and this case may settle the question.

RICHMOND BABY AT BERKELEY HOSPITAL

BERKELEY, July 5.—A bouncing baby boy was born to the wife of F. L. Marble, of Richmond, at the Roosevelt hospital last night. Marble is connected with the Richmond Pressed Brick company. Both mother and child are doing nicely.

29 BIRTHS FOR JUNE; NO DEATHS REPORTED

If Richmond's death rate remained as it did last month, the undertakers of this city would have to become butchers or bakers.

According to City Health Commissioner C. R. Blake, not a single death was reported in this city for the month of June. Better than that the monthly report states that no houses are in quarantine and no contageous diseases are known to exist.

Births reported for the month of June were twenty-nine.

NEW STUTZ

Attorney Clare D. Horner is sporting a new 60-horsepower Stutz touring car. Horner made his first appearance in the new machine in the Fourth parade yesterday.

Officers of the ship notified the police. At the corner of Cutting boulevard and Tenth street Tagawa was taken into custody by Officers Wright and Wylie. He was later returned to the ship.

The Buyo Maru sailed at 4 o'clock for Osaka, Japan with a cargo of case oil.

TRIAL OF PASTOR WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK

(Special to Record-Herald)

MARTINEZ, July 5.—The case of Rev. Paul Edward Petersen, pastor of the First Methodist church at Richmond, under $1000 bonds for having accepted an alleged bribe from a woman of the underworld will come up for trial in the superior court this week. The exact date has not as yet been set.

$9000 TAX MAY BE ABOLISHED FOR MERCHANTS

Stringent efforts will be made by officers of the Richmond Merchants' association in special session with the city council tomorrow night to abolish if possible the present license tax. The tax according to the merchants is unjust and does not recompense them in any way.

Approximately $9000 annually is received by the city from the tax.

FINAL BREACH WITH MEXICO IS SETTLED

(Special to Record-Herald)

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The crisis between the United States and Mexico virtually came to an end today, when a friendly and conciliatory note from the de facto government was handed to Secretary Lansing and promptly communicated to President Wilson.

There seemed to be no disposition to doubt that the United States on its side would arrange for an early withdrawal of the expeditionary force from Mexico.

AT MOOSE HALL

A large number were present Monday evening at the social dance held by the members of Company F. Moose Defenders, in their lodge hall.

GIRL ARRIVES

A baby girl arrived at the home of John R. Kiely insurance broker, Fifteenth and Ohio streets, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Kiely is reported doing nicely.

QUEEN MARIAN LUIZ HOLDS SWAY FOR DAY THROUGHOUT CITY; 1500 IN PROCESSION

Epoch making and bristling with patriotic splendor was the monster Fourth of July parade which climaxed Richmond's celebration yesterday. Never had so many persons marched, never had so many beautiful floats been seen and never in the history of this city had such a crowd thronged the streets as that which waited for yesterday's procession.

Hours before the vanguard of the parade with a band of music at its head moved majestically from the starting place on Seventh street, Macdonald avenue was black with spectators, all anxious to pay homage to Queen Marian.

In accordance with the patriotic custom of the day, the first position in the line of march was given the veterans of Richmond Post, G. A. R. Following the Civil war heroes came the veterans of the Spanish-American war and then the boy scouts in charge of Rev. Frank Linder. Behind the scouts rode the various city officials. Along with the modern fire fighting engines was a hand hose-cart used by the volunteer firemen of this city in 1901. The first fire bell of the city was also displayed on a beautifully decorated float where is was guarded by Mrs. A. C. Lang.

Then came Queen Marian Luiz, riding in state upon a beautifully decorated float, the property of the Pullman company and attended by six ladies in waiting. As a guard of honor, Miss Luiz had the Elks drill team, who presented a pretty spectacle in their immaculate white uniforms.

Following the Queen's float were the Maccabees in a specially decorated float, the Royal Neighbors, Praetorians, Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, Druids, Moose, accompanied by their crack drill team, Eagles with their drum and fife corps, Herman Sons, Yeomen, El Cerrito Camp, Modern Woodmen, Woodmen of the World, W. C. T. U., Y. L. I., Y. M. I., Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters, Stags, Sons of St. George, German Singing society, Redmen, Pocahontas, Button girls, and various industrial displays and floats.

Miss Luiz was attended by Miss Harriett McCoy, Miss Bessie Fitzgerald, Mrs. James Malone, Miss Gladys Claver, Miss Louise Miron, Miss L. Bettencourt, Miss Eva Rose and Miss Dorothy Dammond.

The primeval spirit of the nation was contrasted with that of the Twentieth century by the Redmen and Municipal Improvement company. The former showing an Indian paddling a canoe on a placid lake while the latter was represented by a mammoth steam roller which rattled and roared along the entire line of march.

One of the prettily arranged floats in the procession was that of the Fourth of July button girls in charge of Mrs. Roy Lemoine. The automobile in which the girls rode was driven by Miss Irene Aherns of Berkeley. L. L. Farrell assisted in carrying the contestants. They were Vivian LaSelle, Francis and Lorna Dexter, Goldie Guaga, Muriel Fitzpatrick, Alice Greathouse, Murine Shafer, Margaret Davidson, Victoria Bogart, Reta Dreyspring, Merriam McMinnamin.

Among the more unique floats in the parade was that entered by Dr. C. R. Blake, urging constant fly swatting and better milk for babies;

YEARS SPANNED BY RE-UNION AT FOLLETT HOME

The Beach family reunion took place Monday at the Follett home on Bissell at Third street, with the usual family dinner at the Imperial cafe and all the sons and daughters of Mrs. S. M. Beach were present with the exception of L. G. Beach who was unable to reach this city from his Reno, Nevada, home.

Twenty-five years ago, in Lakeview, Oregon, a similar reunion took place and this is the first time since that date the greater portion of the Beach family have been united under one roof. Those present were Mrs. S. M. Beach, (mother) of this city; S. C. Beach and daughter, Mrs. Donna Beach McLaughlin, San Francisco; F. W. Beach, Portland; A. Y. Beach, Portland; Mrs. G. A. Follett, Paul Follett, Gerald Follett, Helen Follett, Murray Follett, Bernard Follett, Donald Follett, all of Richmond; Mrs. Grace Beach La'dlaw, Crockett and G. Harry Beach, of this city.

As will be noted above the Beach family are pretty widely scattered, but they responded promptly to the invitation of their mother to be present once more around the table to partake of the good things of life and enjoy a day's sociability. The original plan was to have the function at one of the leading hotels in San Francisco, but owing to the poor health of Mrs. S. M. Beach and Mrs. Follett it was decided to hold it in this city, where they both reside.

ELECT MAYOR

Mayor Edward J. Garrard will in all probabilities be elected by the city council at its meeting tonight to succeed himself for the coming year.

Independent Democratic Official Paper of City of Richmond

OLD SOLDIERS FORGOTTEN

Whatever may be the truth as to the ingratitude of republics, the ingratitude of Republicans, measured by their platform, is an undeniable fact.

Surely there was never a time in the history of the country when the old soldiers who imperilled their lives in the national defense should have had their claims so clearly remembered as now. At a time when every energy is being bent toward the stimulation of patriotism and preparedness, it is a striking fact that the Republican party should go on record in favor of allowing pensions for past services to lapse, so far as the official platform voices anything to the contrary.

A government which does not make proper provision for the declining years of those who risked death that the republic might live would hardly be in a position to ask similar sacrifices for the future. And yet in this crucial hour, when national defense is the rallying cry of every patriotic American, the Republican convention at Chicago after days of effort to nullify the splendid Americanism of President Wilson, utterly neglected even to mention the old soldiers who had upheld the Americanism of the past.

There was no such neglect on the part of the Democratic convention. The youth and manhood of today will find an incentive to national service in the Democratic party's substantial gratitude for the sacrifices of the past Terse and clear was the declaration of the Democratic platform

"We renew the declaration of recent Democratic platforms relating to generous pensions for soldiers and their widows, and call attention to our record of performance in this particular."

Almost at the very hour when this plank in the Democratic platform was being approved, a Democratic house was enacting the most liberal pension measure for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the old soldier ever adopted in that body. It is now before the senate, with every prospect of becoming a law. Under its provisions the widows of soldiers and sailors of the Civil war, the war with Mexico and the various Indian wars will receive a pension of $20 a month and thousands who have been widowed after a later marriage will be restored to the pension rolls.

The platform pledge of the Democratic party, so far as possible, is therefore redeemed almost before the convention adjourns. This is in striking contrast with the conduct of the Republican party. Heretofore it has been content to forget the old soldier after election. Now it ignores him altogether. This is, indeed, a strange view of preparedness, at a time when the safety of the republic depends in large measure on citizen soldiers. The true patriots will not fail to see that the party of Democracy is the party of real Americanism.

THOSE LEFT BEHIND

A lady was discussing the horrors of war the other day, and said she would rather be a man, and go, than be the girl or woman he left behind. Men must work and women must weep when warfare is on the boards, for it is the rule of the ages that men shall do the fighting for the family, the tribe or the country. The exceptions make a few bright spots in history like Joan of Arc or Molly Pitcher, but are insignificant beside the long history of hostilities.

And fighting is, of course, the deadliest business of war, and yet, for actual suffering, the woman mentioned above may be right in her contention. The soldier, at least knows where he is, and he knows that the loved ones back home are in most cases reasonably safe. So he is spared that worry. Also, when the sharp test of action comes his way, with the risk of life and danger of wound, he is buoyed up by the excitement of it all, and it becomes less difficult than he thought it was going to be. Many a soldier, awaiting his baptism of fire, fear more than anything else, that he cannot stand the gaff when the guns begin to speak, and, finding that he can, the whole affair is made easier.

Death comes to many, of course, and wounds which are worse than death, but that is part of the game. But the ones at home can never escape the depressing thought that the worst has happened or will happen. Her very ignorance of war will make the average woman suffer more than the average man who goes, for even in the worst of wars, most of those engaged escape and live to fight another day, should that day ever come. But no woman can send her loved ones to the conflict without suffering which lasts from the call for mobilization until the troops come marching home again.

THAT SWEET SWAN SONG

Even its nearest and dearest friends admit that the Bull Moose party is dead and gone, and yet the wild and woolly leaders are seen once more on the peaceful paths of the Republican reservation. It might be akin to nature faking to say that the Bull Moose sang a swan song, but it certainly did some plain and fancy pointing with pride in the final obsequies.

The Kansas City Star, for example, has shown how the colonel prevented the Old Guard from wishing a reactionary candidate upon the country, although it is generally admitted that the colonel himself hadn't a chance in the Republican convention. And the old guard certainly had a chance to name who it wished in the Chicago convention; it had the votes. But four lean years have led the Republicans to long for victory, and it is believed by many that they selected the most likely candidate for that purpose if that represents a Progressive victory, they should be welcome to what consolation they can extract from it, for one should be respectful toward the dead.

Comes also William Allen White, who isn't sure yet what party he belongs to, and gives the Progressives credit for every good thing the Democrats have done, and none of the blame for the record in the error column. The Democratic platform, he points out, might have been written by a Bull Moose resolutions committee, except for its indorsement of the Wilson Mexican policy, and that is constantly becoming more stringent.

These are but a few samples for the lost is as long as those returning who have the gift of words, and the Bull Moose party was strong in literary strength, whatever it may have lacked in other essentials. One should, we said, speak kindly of the dead, and yet, as one scans these swan songs, and thinks of old Vic Murdock bawling before the last moments of the Progressive convention, it is hard to refrain from smilling a kindly smile.

LIBRARIANS' REPORT REPORT FOR JULY

Allen. Captain Gardiner of the International Police. Plot and intrigue in the tricky Orient develop, but after the war is over everything is well straightened out, even the tangled love stories.

Ballard. Young America. This is a novelization of a popular play which has for its theme: "What shall be done with the town's bad boy? And what do you, or I, as a perfectly good citizen of the town owe to society as a theoretical guardian of all growing children?"

Beach. Crimson Gardnia and other tales of adventures. Some of the stories are laid in old Creole New Orleans; others are tales of the far North. All are good short stories.

Burnham. Instead of the thorn. A Christian Science story.

Comstock. The vindication. A mystery story surrounding the parentage of two children, a boy and a girl, who are adopted by young Dr. Hill, bachelor and patron saint of the Climbing Hills.

Curwood. Hunted woman. A tale of the line far off in the wilderness of Northwestern Canada. The story of Aldous' struggle to save Joanne form the rough, lawless band who were joining the ends of the last continental line.

Dawson. Jan. Jan is super-dog or at least highly humanized dog. He is given by Betty Murdock to her betrothed in the Canadian mounted police force where he gains fame as a police dog and is kidnapped to Alaska, but accident restores him to his rightful owner and Betty.

Harcourt. A pair of silk stockings. A pair of silk stockings used to tie up a burglar's legs brings an estranged wife and her husband together.

London. The little lady of the Big House. The life story of Dick Forrest, master of broad acres, and the love story of Paula his wife, young and attractive to other men as well as Dick.

McLaren. Heir of Duncarron. It is a story full of charm, this tale of the return to her estate of the exiled heir of Duncarron—exiled not thru choice or fault of her own but as the companion of her spendthrift father. The story of her attachment to her debt-encumbered ancestral home, of the shy dawning of love for the man who occupies it and of the battle with pride that stands as an obstacle to the love, is told against a background rich in romantic association.

Megrue. Under fire. A story of the present war, a romantic tale of love, intrigue and adventure.

Macharg. The blind man's eyes. A blind lawyer with remarkable power of perception, while traveling, is murderously assaulted in his berth. As the plot is unfolded, the situation become more dramatic, and the love interest quickens until the engrossed reader reaches the final exciting chapters.

Miller. Come out of the kitchen. A quaint little love story of mystery and absurd situations. The play from which this story is taken will be in San Francisco during July or August.

Packard. The beloved traitor. The big drama of fame versus love's kindness. A country youngster becomes overnight a well-known sculptor and felt at once the urban temptations and the call of his little sweetheart's love.

Paine. Long road home. A splendid story in which life of those who today go down to the sea is made strangely visible and real. It is alive with adventureous action, with spiritual as well as physical struggle and with a fine though robust idealism.

Rohmer. Return of Dr. Fu-Manchu. No other creature has ever possessed the evil ingenuity that actuates the yellow doctor.

Smith. Babette. A charming little French story of the faith of a young girl in her lover which compels him to give up his criminal past.

Smith. Crown of life. An analization of a young girl's character development thru many trying experiences.

Tompkins. Seed of the righteous. Chloe decides that she will make something of herself and starts the process by earning her own living. There is a pretty little love story that runs thru some troubles but ends satisfactorily.

Van Dresser. Gibby of Clamshell Alley. He named himself from a boat; he had no parents and no home, except a corner in the shanty of the town bully; he was ragged, illiterate, running wild, yet he made a home of his own, cornered the clam business and devoloped a character.

Wolf. The fulfillment; a California novel.

"THE FEUD GIRL" AT RICHMOND TONIGHT

The management of the Richmond theater has arranged a remarkably well balanced and entertaining bill for this evening. The main feature on the bill is the mountain romance, "The Feud Girl." Laid in the mountainous regions of the south this offering is presented in circumstances ideally in keeping with the traditions and the old family feuds upon which it is founded. Hazel Dawn, by many called the most beautiful of them all, plays the stellar role, and is assisted by an able cast. Many of the players have been selected especially to lend atmosphere and true life to the story of the old days when family hatred, one family for another, was passed down from generation to generation. "The Feud Girl" is a true feature. If you are interested in the history of the most interesting part of our country, the south in the early days, don't fail to see this production at the Richmond theater this evening. "Reckless Wresters" is the name of the comedy attraction for this evening. This is shown in one reel and it is one reel full of real entertainment. The program is concluded with the presentation of the Pathe News pictures.

RICHMOND CELEBRATES THE FOURTH OF JULY

a corral holding several live sheep property of O. R. Ludewig, an Indian camp by Onetah Tribe of Redmen, and a large paper mache milk bottle advertising the Harbor creamery. A float bearing a fac-simile of thecity hall was entered by the Civic Center club.

Music for the procession was supplied by the Richmond Concert band which was divided into two sections.

One of the prettiest floats in the parade was that entered by the Pullman company and specially arranged for the queen. It was all in white and presented a gorgeous appearance.

The parade marched from Seventh street to Sixteenth street and thence back along Macdonald avenue to the west side where it disbanded. Immediately following the breaking up the barbecue was held. More than 3000 pounds of the most delicious barbecued meat was served by the committee in charge.

The parade was acclaimed by all who saw it to be one of the most spectacular event ever seen in this city.

Besides the various fraternal floats there were innumerable displays and special floats by business houses and manufacturing firms.

The float of the Standard Oil company displaying a number of boys garbed in white uniforms, who manufacture the company's latest product known as "White Oil" for medical purposes created much comment.

Almost as glorious as was yesterday's garade was the mardi gras of the night previous. Miss Bessie Fitzgerald, second in the Goddess of Liberty contest was crowned queen of the Mardi gras on a special open air platform at the Lincoln school. The crowning was made by Mayor E. J. Garrard, who also gave into Miss Fitzgerald's keeping the keys of the city. Short addresses were made at the ceremonies by City Attorney D. J. Hall, Levi Boswell and the queen herself. Following the coronation several patriotic selections were played by the band and searchlights played on an American flag above the Elks building.

A spectacular display of fireworks, rockets and colored lights concluded the celebration last night at First street and Macdonald avenue. The display lasted for an hour and was very beautiful.

Too much credit for the success of the celebration cannot be given General Manager A. C. Faris, who with the support of his numerous committees gave Richmond an epoch marking event.

CHARLES BURNS HANGS INDIAN SIGN ON MARTINEZ YESTERDAY

Martinez all but won from Richmond yesterday.

The "all but won" part coming in the ninth frame.

But it was only a half-hearted rally which the county seaters made and proved futile.

Starting out like demons the county seat squad clicked everything which "Willie Hoppe" Gordon gave them. Then Manager Bert Curry made a change. He put in Charley Burns. Charley's arm and Charley's speed turned everything topsy-turvey. When he entered the pitcher's box the score was 2 to 1, with the lone numeral behind Richmond's name. When Charley emerged in the ninth frame the score was 3-2 with Martinez still hold the 2.

In the fourth inning Eddie Benn stopped one on third which seemed impossible. "Pop" Arlett, county seat twirler, won the plaudits of the crowd in the eighth frame when he caught a high infield fly.

Carrigan on second base for Martinez seems to be the best infield player which the county seat nine has. Although small and boyish looking the diminutive second-sacker seems to be all over the field. His work in assisting at first base was snappy, clever and efficient.

Much excitement followed the game when a greased pig was let loose in the crowd as a part of the Fourth of July celebration. Although the "grunter" was as slippery as an eel he met tough opposition in Harvey Christiansen, Elks second baseman who caught one of porker's legs and held onto it. The score:

SHINKLE LOSES FIRST GAME AT FRESNO; ALLOWS 11 HITS

(Special to Record-Herald)

FRESNO, July 5.—Mr. Fowler, a tall, heavy set gent from far-off Bakersfield, has joined the Tiger tamers class and yesterday out at Recreation park, said Mr. Fowler had the herefore wild and untamed as well as the ferocious Fresno Tigers eating right out of his hand. Fact is, the home town boys took their beating in a row without a murmur.

The rooters for the locals were on hand as chesty as could be for Shinkle, the pet of the Richmond Elks, was to do the firing and Shinkle is some pitcher. The score shows that Bakersfield gathered eleven hits and tore over the plate on five occasions but it was far from being the fault of Shinkle. Our boys were decidedly off color in their fielding and they ran bases as if they were wearing Oregon boots. Then the score fails to show several juicy plays excouted with the head.

In the first round Bakersfield gathered two runs and they should have gone scoreless. Kelly failed to back up on a pop up from Clafin's bat that would have retired the side, and then trouble came. In the second, with one out, Stacey gathered a double to right that Miller should have got, and he scored on a fluke single by Topaz. That is, Stacey cut all of three feet off third base in his dash to the rubber and got by with it.

A clean drive for three bases by Ross and a single by Coleman gave Bakersfield the only run they deserved. That final tally roamed over when Adams dropped Topaz's fly. Preston booted Cuneo's hit and Shinkle made a bad heave to right field.

Fresno escaped the whitewash in the second on a single, a steal and a single by Preston. Here is the score:

	R.	H.	E.
Bakersfield	5	11	1
Fresno	1	6	5

Batteries—Fowler and Stacey; Shinkle and Nelson.

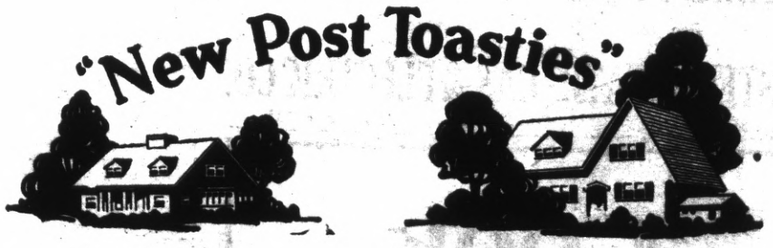
"New Post Toasties"



From House to House the Good News Spreads

Many housewives have found a happy solution of the breakfast problem in NEW POST TOASTIES.

These new corn flakes are distinctive in that they bear a self-developed flavor all their own—the delicate, fascinating flavor of choice, white Indian corn. Unlike other flakes, they do not depend on cream and sugar to make them palatable.

Try a handful without cream and sugar—note the fine flavor and new form; also the tiny "bubbles" on each flake. These bubbles are a distinguishing characteristic and are produced by the quick, intense heat of the new process of making, which also brings out the wonderful flavor.

Although the NEW POST TOASTIES are a great improvement in flavor and form, they cost no more than ordinary flakes. Have a package delivered for tomorrow's breakfast.
